Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Coffin gave a very pleasant reception last evening to Margaret Reid and brother, Mr. Thomas Kackley. The chief ornamentation of the house was snowballs. In the hall, where lemonade was served, a table was double-arched with them, and the coffee table was under a snow-ball umbrella. They were fringes for the mantel, portieres for the doors, and massed effectively everywhere. An occasional vase of roses or fleur-de-lis made the only dash of color, except the white balls and bit of foliage. Mrs. Coffin was assisted in extending her hospitalities by Mrs. A. J. Beveridge, Mrs. C. É. Holloway, Mrs. Horace T. Bennett. Mrs. Harry Drew, Mrs. W. O. DeVay. Mrs. Van Camp, Mrs. Catterson, Mrs. W. H. Coleman, Misses Minnie and Florence Coffin, Miss Fountain and Miss Coe.
